

HEIGHT QUESTIONS

Buildings have a relationship with streets, particularly in urban settings. How buildings relate to public space—particularly the sidewalk environment—can have an impact on people's experience of the building itself, the whole block and even the entire neighborhood.

Question 1

What makes the height of a building, higher than two stories, attractive or unattractive to you?

Question 2

Do taller buildings add interest to a community?

MIXED USE BUILDINGS OR NOT QUESTIONS

Every community has characteristics that make it a unique place. No other place looks exactly like Norman. A community's unique identity is created by elements such as the design and form of buildings, the presence of natural features, and the layout of streets.

Question 1

What makes Norman distinctive?

Question 2

How can mixed-use development support that distinctiveness?
